Colorado Stockmen Present Community Plan Which Promises Solution.

onference, which may result in settling the controversy over the question of using the public lands for grazing purposes. was held here today between Gifford Pinthat, chief of the United States forestry bureau, representing the National Government, and a committee of thirty from the Colorado Cattle and Horse Growers'

Plan Pleases Pinchot.

A plan presented by the stockmen's committee provides a system for governing the range and met the hearty approval of Mr. Pinchot. He said that already he had put into effect some changes along the lines of the plan offered and would make additional revisions when opportunity afforded. He told the comopportunity afforded. He told the com-mittee that the Fresident was determined to carry out his ideas of leasing the range, and that in doing so the interests and welfare of the stockmen would be given every consideration.

Provides Community Rule.

Provides Community Rule.

The plan drawn up by the committee provides for community rule of grazing lands, as well as leasing of pastures to private individuals. It favors a long-time lease with a permanent fee. The community proposition enables a dozen or more owners of stock to lease acreage and gives them control through a board made up of the president of the local live stock associations and their secretaries and the forest supervisor. In localities where sheep graze, the sheepmen will be represented on the board, and the land apportioned to the sheep and other herds so that there can be no conflict.

HARD LOT OF LEPERS

Father Conrady Tells of Opportunity to Relieve Suffering.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.-Father L. L. Conrady, who was the companion of Father Damien in his last days at the Hawalian leper colony of Molokai, and who succeeded him in his work there, has just arrived in this city to complete his plans for establishing leper colonies In China.

Father Conrady was born in Belgium and began his labors as a priest in In-dia. He first came to the United States early in the seventies, and for fourteen years labored in eastern Oregon among the Umatilla Indians and the few scat tered white Catholics of that district. He said last night:

Chance for Philanthropists.

"There are thousands of abandoned ictims of this dread disease in the vi cinity of Canton. I saw many wretched cases in Molokai, but the condition of the Chinese lepers is much more-noth ing short of appailing When one learns that a leper can be housed, fed and given medical attention at a cost of 2½ cents a day, it seems too bad that something has not already been done for them. I have secured the services of several staters members of a substantial staters. several sisters, members of a religious community which is conducting two leper settlements in Japan, one in Birmatcy and one in Madagascar, the last having 800 immates. special to The Tribune

MODENA, Utah, Jan. 21 -Hon. R. C. Lund, president of the State Board of Equalization, died at 4:20 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at his home in St. George, after a brief illness caused by a complication of troubles. The immediate cause of his death was hemorrhage of the brain Was Accidentally Injured.

About a month ago, while traveling to Las Vegas. Nev., he was accidentally hurt, his kidneys being injured.
Since this he has been in rather poor health, but was not confined to his bed until Monday last, when he became unconscious, and continued generally in this condition up to the time of his death. His wife, three sons, a daughter, sister and mother were with him when the end came. Sketch of His Life.

Mr. Lund was a native of Diggins, Wis, where he was born on May 25, 1847. In 1850 his parents came to Utah Until 1851 he worked on a farm, attending school in the winter. In that year his father moved to "Dixle," settling in St. George, where the family has made its home since.

Learned Telegraphy.

Young Lund came to Salt Lake in 1865, learned telgraphy and when the Deseret Telegraph company's line was completed to St. George was put in charge of the office. He remained in that position for years, later going to Ploche, then to Silver Reef. At the latter place, in company with Messrs. Woolley and Judd, he established a big merchandise business, under the firm name of Woolley, Lund & Judd.

Elected Mayor of St. George.

Elected Mayor of St. George. In 1875 Mr. Lund was elected Mayor of St. George, filling the office two terms While occupying the office he was elected to the Territorial Legislature, being re-elected to that position, also Chosen Presidential Elector.

In Utah's first Presidential election he was chosen an elector of the Democratic carty, and made president of the college In the winter of the same year he was appointed by the Legislature as a member of the commission to go to Arizona and negotiate for the land commonly known as the Arizona strip.

Member State Board.

After that commission had been fulfilled he was appointed by Gov. Wells to be a member of the State Board of Equalization a position which he has occupled ever since

He was married in 1870 to Miss Mary Romney. They have nine children, all of whom are still living.

The funeral will occur on Thursday, the

IN MATCHTOWN

Fortunately no Faith Was Required, for She Had None.

"I had no faith whatever, but on the advice of a hale, hearty old gentleman who spoke from experience, I began to use Grape-Nuts about 2 years ago." writes an Ohio woman living in Barberton, who says she is 40, is known to be fair, and admits that she is growing plump on the new diet.

"I shall not try to tell you how I suffered for years from a deranged stomach that rejected almost all sorts of food, and assimilated what little was forced upon it only at the cost of great distress and pain. I was treated by many different doctors, and they gave me many different medicines, and I even spent seven years in exile from m home, thinking change of scene might do me good. You may judge of the gravity of my condition when I tell you I was sometimes compelled to use mor-phine for weeks at a time.

'For two years I have eaten Grape Nuts food at least twice a day, and I can now say that I have perfect health. I have taken no medicine in that time -Grape-Nuts has done it all. I can eat absolutely anything I wish, without stomach distress. I am a business woman, and can walk my 2 or 3 miles a day and feel better for doing so. I have to use brains in my work and it is re-markable how quick, alert and throless

MURDO MACKENZIE IS MADE THE PRESIDENT

President Frank Hagenbarth Tells Needs of the Live Stock Interests.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 31.-Consolidation of the National Live Stock association and the American Stock-Growers' association was effected here today by the annual convetions of the two organizasociation is the name adopted for the amalgamated body, which represents 20, of Trinidad, Colo., was unanimously elected president of the new association on a rising vote in joint convention of the delegates of the two old associations Only Stock-Growers in It.

Mr. MacKenzie has been president of the American Stock-Growers' association since its organization in this city a year ago by seceders from the National Live ago by seceders from the National Live Stock association's convention. This split was caused by the decision to give rep-resentation in the stockmen's conven-tions to railroads and packers. In the association organized today, with which will be affiliated forty-five subsidiary associations, only stock-growers will be represented.

Important Addresses.

Important addresses setting forth the existing conditions in the live stock industry and the requirements of the stockmen were delivered today by Frank J. Hagenbarth, president of the National association, and Murdo MacKenzie, president of the American association.

Adopt Consolidation Plan.

Previous to the meeting of the merged conventions the delegates, in separate sessions, adopted the plan of consolida-tion agreed upon by the executive com-mittees of the two organizations. The name chosen for the new organization, embracing all live stock interests, is the American National Live Stock associa-tion tion. Murdo MacKenzie was elected permaent chairman of the Joint convention.

Welcoming addresses were made by City
Attorney Harry A. Lindsley and Aiva
Adams, former Governor of Colorado.
Gifford Pinchot, chief of the Federal bureaw of forestry, delivered a geeting to the stockmen from President Rooseveit, to which John W. Springer of Denver responded. Mr. Pinchot said.

Greetings From Roosevelt.

Greetings From Roosevelt.

I bring you the President's personal greetings and have instructione to tell you that he knows something about your troubles himself; that he realizes the vast importance to you of having the forest reserves rightly handled; that he recognizes the signs of the coming change in conditions on the open range, and the tremendous interests to the stockmen at stake in that change, and that in both of these great questions, forest reserves and open range, he wants and will welcome your co-operation, suggestions and advices, that he counts on you to romember that great national questions such as these cannot be handled rightly either by you or the administration unless they are handled on broader considerations than the personal interests of any single man or set of men, and finally that he sends you his heartlest good wishes for the success of this convention and good luck to you all.

Hagenbarth's Address.

Hagenbarth's Address.

Frank J. Hagenbarth, president of the ational Live Stock association, then de-National Live Stock association, then delivered his annual address.

Mr. Hagenbarah said that the most telling work of the year had been done in the efforts to secure reciprocity and the readjustment of the relations with the railroads. While contending for a change of the twenty-eight-hour shipping law, Mr. Hagenbarth said a better transportation service should be sought. The losses from shrinkage due to slow running time were greater than from excessive rates. Concerning the forest reserve and range question, Mr. Hagenbarth said.

Opposes Hasty Changes. . mere conservative among us feel that the present system may be unscientific, atili we are accustomed to it and are opposed to ill-advised and hasty changes which might bring into dispute and make unbearable range control or land-leasing. While we may have no sympathy with the old cry of Let well enough alone, neither can we subscribe to a policy which does not absolutely provide in unequivocable terms for a full co-operation between the Government official and the user of the public domain.

Government Should Assist.

Concluding, he said: Concluding, he said:

Among the requirements necessary for the success of the live stock business is a more profound interests in its behalf on the part of the Government. Our efforts should never cease until a law giving us a biennial census of live stock be written. We should inester on increased appropriations by Congress for the Department of Agriculture, for the Eureau of Animal Industry. No other civilized nation gives so little heed or assistance to its live stock interests.

Nominates MacKenzie.

At the conclusion of his address Mr. Hagenbarth nominated Murdo MacKenzie for president of the American National Live Stock association for the ensuing year, and he was unanimously elected, after the convention had voted to suspend the constitution and by-laws for the purpose. Mr. MacKenzie then delivered his annual address as president of the American Stock Growers' association.

Fight for Better Rates . Mr. MacKenzie said that since the con-vention in May, 1905, no opportunity had been lost of pressing the fight for an amendment to the interstate commerce law giving the Interstate Commerce com-mission the power to regulate rates. He Rights of Railroads.

Throughout our fight for this needed legislation we kept steadily before us the rights of the railroads as well as those of the shippers, and in this way have been able to get the support of some men who a year ago did not favor our side of the question. I am glad to say the President of the United States in his last annual message again strongly recommended a bill which will give equal cights to the railroad and the shipper, and, if the shippers of the country will only do their share in seeing that the Congressmen and Senators from each district support the President, this legislation is certain to be enacted.

The sheepmen insist that they be not com-pelled to unload at night, claiming that it is difficult to handle sheep in the darkness of night. The changes proposed by the resolu-tion referred to have the sanction of the Na-tional Humane society.

Ideal Sheep Range.

Another resolution adopted today favors an increase in the annual appropriation for the support of the Bureau of Animal Industry from 125,000 to $250,000. A D Melvin chief of the bureau, and his assistant, G. M. Ronnel, addressed the convention, telling of the needs of the bureau. Officers Elected. Mr. Ronnel said that the bureau was planning to establish an experiment station somewhere in Wyoming to develop an ideal range for sheep. This would be done when sufficient money was in hand for the project.

LEAVES WOMAN TO DIE

Lynching Is Promised if Negro Is Captured.

Captured.

ATLANTA Jan. 31—Mrs. Nina May Dupree, a young woman about 20 years old, who lives with W. H. Grogan, a prosperous farmer, about six miles from Atlanta, near Cornell, was assaulted by a negro this afterdoon. After cutting her throat and leaving her in a dying condition from the loss of blood and nervous excitement, the negro escaped. A posse of more than a hundred citizens, with hounds, is following the negro tonight, and if he is captured he will in all probability be summarily lynched.

Lying in Blood. The assault upon the young woman oc-curred some time between the hours of 1 and 4 o'clock this afternoon. Mr Gro-gan and his wife, returning home from Atlanta at that hour, found Mrs. Dupree lying in the dining-room in a pool of bliced. Physicians, who were immediately summoned, despair of her recovery. She was too weak to say more than that a tall black negro was the perpetrator of the crime.
